EXAMINER'S STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. This communication is an Examiner's reasons for allowance in response to application filed on September 21, 2001, assigned serial 09/961,223 and titled "METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR COMPUTER NETWORK IMPLEMENTAL VEHICLE DIAGNOSTICS".

2. The following is the Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

a. After carefully reviewing the application in light of the prior art of record, the amended claims and additional search of all the possible areas relevant to the present application, a set of related prior art references has been found, but those prior art references are not deemed strong to make the application unpatentable. Thus, it is found that the application is now in condition for allowance.

b. Although the prior art disclose several claimed limitations, none of the references teaches a method of diagnosing a vehicle having onboard computer for generating diagnostic trouble code signals, the diagnostic trouble code signals being related to passed or problem status of the vehicle, which includes at least the steps of connecting a handheld code reader to the onboard computer, downloading diagnostic trouble code signals from the onboard computer to the code reader, generating a visual output signal in the handheld code reader, wherein the visual output signal being representative of passed/failed/inconclusive status of the vehicle as determined from the diagnostic trouble code signals by the handheld code reader, independent of resources external to the handheld code reader, disconnecting the handheld code reader from the on board computer, uploading the diagnostic trouble code signals to a personal computer, and uploading the diagnostic trouble code signal from the personal computer to a remote computer, wherein the steps of connecting, downloading and generating a visual signal proceed independent of user interaction with a code reader visual interface (claims 29, 53, 62, and 83).

c. Claims 29, 31, 33, 34, 36-41, 43-59 and 61-102 are allowable over the prior art of record (now renumbered as 1-69).
